The picture at the Bijou theatre to-day, showing the "Ter-centennial Celebration at Quebec, July, 1908," is the best of its kind in the moving picture field to-day. This fact is admitted by everybody. It shows vividly and perfectly the different ceremonies, the noted guests—among whom Vice-President Fairbanks and the Prince of Wales are easily discerned—and many places quaint and historic about the city. Seeing this picture is the next thing to having been there and seen the original celebration. It is worth the price of admittance of itself, to say nothing of the rest of the program.
